A WINNABLE WAR

Bro. Troy Mooney

2 Corinthians 10:3–5, "For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: (4) (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds;) (5) Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ."

For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ.

On September 11, 2001, at 8:46 AM, American Airlines Flight 11 from Boston crashed into the North Tower of the World Trade Center. Onlookers were stunned, and the media focused national attention immediately on Lower Manhattan. At 9:03 AM, United Airlines Flight 175 from Boston crashed into the South Tower. It became apparent in that moment that we were not simply witnessing an awful tragedy.

An airplane would crash into the Pentagon, and another in Western Pennsylvania. Evil was at work. The country entered into what was referred to as "The War on Terror." It would have to be fought in ways we had never fought before, because the enemy was not just one person or one country. It was a war against who we are as a nation and what we stand for.

We heard, a couple of years ago, about a new virus in another part of the world. Most dismissed it. But health officials began to tell us that a SARS virus, which we call COVID-19, was easily spread. For some, it would bring death, with little help available from our medical knowledge.

There is a war going on, and we are in it. I don't mean the War on Terror or the coronavirus again. I mean a spiritual war.

God never said that living in the pathway of righteousness was going to be easy. He did not say that when we were saved, we would never battle sin again. In fact, the Bible teaches the opposite. Jesus told His disciples that just as the world hated Him, the world would hate them. Peter says that the world thinks it strange that you don't continue to do the same things you once did before you were saved.

Brethren, we are at war, and war is messy. War has casualties. War has battles that are won and battles that are lost. The challenge is to be engaged in spiritual warfare. But many would rather hide and hope the enemy just goes away. Why did the Israelites wander for 40 years? They saw giants and were afraid to take the land God gave them. When the Midianites oppressed Israel, Gideon was hiding in a winepress.

When Goliath taunted Israel, King Saul was hiding in his tent. Paul says that we do not wage war as the world does. The teaching is one of going on the offense.

To the Ephesians, Paul would speak about spiritual warfare in Ephesians 6:10–18.

If you think you are so insignificant that the powers of evil will simply leave you alone, you are wrong. The moment you were baptized into Christ, the Holy Spirit took up residence in you. That marked you for a spiritual battle. This brings us to our text.

2 Corinthians 10:3, "For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh."

The War

The truth is we are flesh and blood, and our enemy is not. Just like fighting a war against terror or a virus that we don't see with the naked eye, our ability has some limitation. For Paul, the enemy centered on false teaching and false teachers that he sarcastically calls "super apostles." This was a battle for truth. It was a battle that would take place in the hearts and minds of Christians.

The battle for truth in the early church has extended for the last 2,000 years. If truth were accepted, we would not have hundreds of different religious bodies that call themselves Christians. Satan is powerful, but he is no God. Satan seeks to make strongholds. Each of us must examine ourselves to see if sin has made a stronghold in us.

These strongholds of evil appear to have their root in our minds. Satan loves to take hold of your thoughts. If Satan can control our minds, he can eventually control our actions. The battle is to take back control of our thoughts—to take every thought captive and make it obedient to Christ. The battle we are in is often very personal. But what weapons do we have for such a battle for truth and our minds?

The Weapons

If the war is false teaching and the captivities of our minds in a sinful nature, how do I fight? It seems as though it is a losing battle. I have never met a perfect Christian who has so mastered self-control as to never sin again. Are we doomed to failure? Are we doomed to defeat? Paul's answer is a resounding no!

2 Corinthians 10:4–5, "(4) For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds; (5) Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ." The weapons we use are not of the world. Instead, they have divine power to demolish strongholds.

Example: Joshua and the Battle of Jericho. Jericho was not a small town with little walls. The wall was their greatest defense. They could prepare for a long siege, but that is not what took place. For seven days, the Israelites marched around the wall. I could only imagine what the people inside Jericho were thinking. On that seventh day, they marched around it seven times. They blew horns, and the people shouted, and the wall collapsed. Why did the wall of Jericho fall? Because the Israelites did exactly what God commanded. It was God.

We have God who fights for us. The war for truth and the battle for the stronghold of our minds is a winnable war. As Paul tells the church in Rome in Romans 8:31–37.

Two weapons we use to fight this spiritual war are God's Word and prayer. I believe they are the most powerful weapons we have. With the sword of truth and in all types of prayer, we find God at work in the battle.

What do we find Jesus doing when Satan attacks Him in the wilderness? Matthew 4:1–11 and Mark 1:11–13.

Jesus is in communication with God and uses the words of Scripture to defeat the power of Satan. I would guess that's a great place to start.

Conclusion

There is a war going on. There are strongholds for evil, but the power of God at work in you is greater. We can help you take hold of that power by praying with you, praying for you, and walking beside you in your personal battle.

Thought for the Month

Mana from Heaven. The miraculous bread-like substance God fed the Israelites in Exodus 16. Each morning, they were instructed to gather just enough for that day, except on the 6th day when they gathered also for the Sabbath.

Why did God give them this vital task in such an odd way? To teach them reliance upon, and trust in, Him. If they didn't gather enough, they went hungry. If they gathered too much, it spoiled. If they varied even just a little bit, it didn't work out for them because of their distrust.

We too, are commanded by scripture to observe, worship, teach, perform, study, love, nurture, etc… And most of these come with very specific instructions. Over the years, man had decided that some of these instructions have become outdated, don't work in these days and times, are no longer necessary, don't attract big enough crowds, can be done any old way we want, etc… etc…

What happens if and when we vary from them? Well… let's see: Adam & Eve (Gen 3:23-24); Cain (Gen 4:11-12); The Israelites (Ex 32:28&35); King Saul (1Sam 15:26-28); and Jonah (Jonah 1:17 & 2:1-2) just to name a few.

Notes & Letters

Dear Brother and Sisters in Christ,

It is a beautiful early spring day in our part of AZ. We hope this finds everyone well after this Winters flu season. We are all recovering but still have some lingering coughs and raspy voices.

As many know, in March of last year, we relocated to the Apache Junction area in AZ. The climate is drier, easier to breathe, closer to doctors and family. Also, we have four great grand-children now and it is such a joy to watch them grow. Apache Junction is still a drive to bigger cities but small enough to have that country feel, which we enjoy.

Sunday morning services are held in our homes on a rotating basis. If you are in the area on a Sunday, we want to invite you to worship and enjoy a home cooked lunch. Or in the area and just want to visit, please call: Mike Wilcher 928-446-5444 (please leave a message), Tim Shepherd 480-622-0486 (please leave a message)

Mike often works in his shop and Tim is still working a 9-5. They will get back to you as soon as possible.

In Christ's love,
Apache Junction

Milk of the Word

Simon the Zealot

Simon the Canaanite or Zealot was one of Jesus' disciples. In the New Testament, the zealots were a party that was for Jewish independence and not Roman rule. They wanted the people to rebel and drive the Romans from Israel. They were also known to target Jews who were sympathetic to Rome.

Simon the Zealot is mentioned four times in the New Testament, in places where the names of the disciples are listed, but beyond this no information about him is given (Matthew 10:4; Mark 3:18; Luke 6:15; Acts 1:13). It is thought that he is called "Simon the Zealot" because, when Jesus called him, he was a member of the Zealots' political movement.

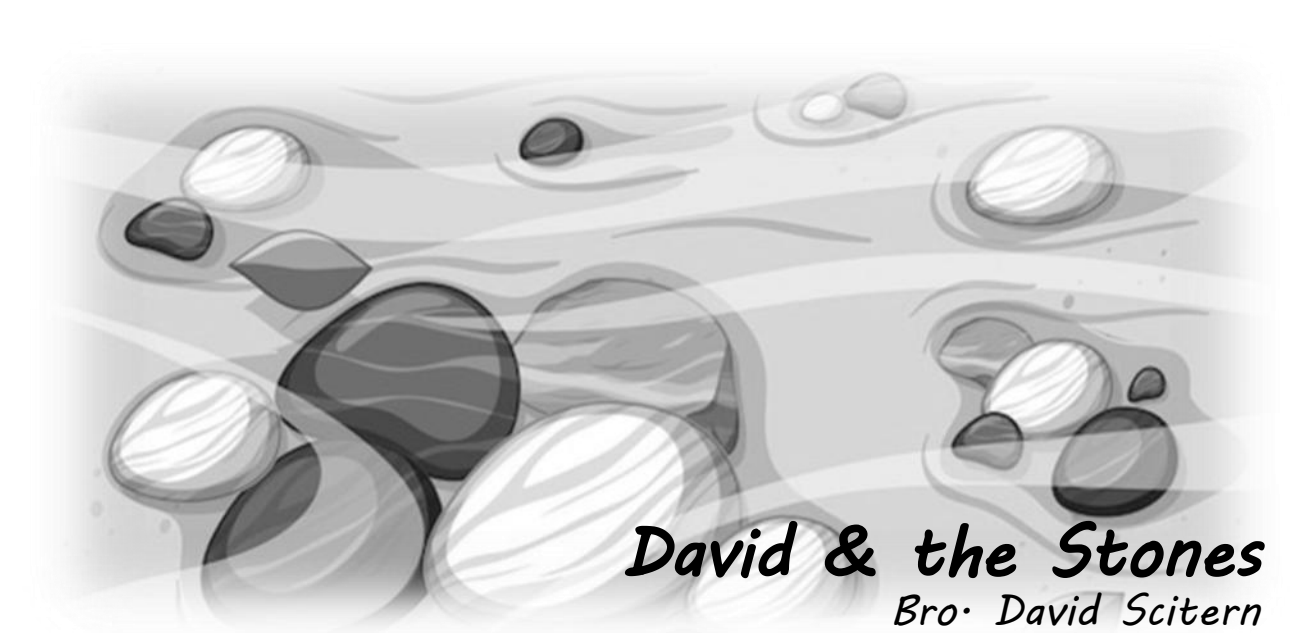

We can assume that Simon's priorities changed as he submitted to Jesus' teaching, which included "giving to Caesar what belongs to Caesar" (Matthew 22:21), and an emphasis on the kingdom of God, which was not of this world and was not established by use of violence and the force of arms (John 18:36).

It is interesting to note that Jesus called another disciple, Matthew, who was a tax collector (Matthew 9:9) and who would have been in the employ of Rome directly or of the Jewish officials who ruled with Rome's blessing. Matthew the publican and Simon the Zealot were from opposite ends of the political spectrum.

Despite their differing political views, Matthew and Simon were united in their greater allegiance to Jesus. As brothers and co-workers for the gospel, they set aside their differences and focused on spreading the message of love, forgiveness, and salvation.

As followers of Christ, we should strive to emulate the unity and love displayed by Simon the Zealot and Matthew, putting aside our differences and working together towards a common goal.

David & the Stones

Bro. David Scitern

Brother Paul, I know the answer to the question you posed on page 18 (Jan 2025 Courier) concerning why David picked up 5 stones. But so you can enjoy the patience and comfort of scripture, I'm giving you a scripture to meditate on that should lead you to the answer: Exodus 39:14 and Joshua 4:1-9. If this doesn't lead you there, I will clarify it for you:

What I wanted you to pick up on was what stones represent in scripture: Groups of people, tribes, states, kingdoms, etc. Goliath, as stated in scripture, was the champion of the Philistines. Like in our modern Olympics, where a person represents the whole of the USA. In 1 Samuel 6:16 we find that there are 5 lords of the Philistines, the same as 5 tribes like the 12 stones / 12 tribes of Israel. Because David was to fight the representative of all 5 Philistine tribes, he picked up 5 stones. When he defeated Goliath, he symbolically defeated all of the Philistines (all 5 lords).

As scriptures indicate, a l w a y s r e m e m b e r 2 Timothy 3:16-17. There is never a good reason to look anywhere but in the book of the Lord. All else causes confusion, which you found out.

One final thought: Joshua had the Israelites get the 12 stones from the Jordan, just as David got the 5 from the creek. There is a very wonderful understanding there, if you pick up on it. It's a very deep thought but so beautiful.

This is what fills my mind when I consider the stones in the water: as a jagged and unseemly rock in the river, with time, is washed and rounded into something beautiful to behold. We too, as we enter into the river of life, are rough and without direction, rolling to and fro. With the passing of time, we are cleansed and reformed into a glorious sight in the eyes of the Father, meant for His purposes. All the while, our gaze is to that faraway bank that is full of milk and honey, love and peace. As we near the end of the river, filled with anticipation and hope, we dream of hearing those joyous words, "Well done, my good and faithful servant," and therein into His eternal light forever and ever.

Here's a thought for you, my brothers in Jesus: In 1 Thessalonians 5:21, we are told to prove all things. It doesn't say, "...except this or that." In the living Word, have you ever seen the name "BIBLE" before? If not, what does God call it?

Much love,

Bible Books answers (from last month)

I once made a remark about the hidden books of the Bible (merely by a fluke.) It kept people looking so hard for the facts and for others it was a revelation. Some were in a jam, especially since the name of the books were not capitalized, but the truth finally struck home to numbers of readers. To others it was a real job. We want it to be a most fascinating few moments for you. Yes, there will be some really easy ones to spot. Others may require judges to help them. I will quickly admit it usually takes a minister to find one of them, and there will be loud lamentations when it is found. A little lady says she brews a cup of tea so she can concentrate better. See how well you can compete. Relax now!

NEWS FROM ABROAD

Matundu, Kenya Orphanage
January 13, 2025

As I last reported, we opened the Matundu Orphanage on May 18, 2024. It was a great day of celebration and thanksgiving for what God had provided for the children there in Kenya. Since the opening weekend quite a bit of progress has been made in finishing up the water supply, permanent electricity to all the buildings, and other projects. There are more things to continue doing, but it is very livable now. We have added 2 goats and a cow so the children will have milk. We continue to look for ways to add to, so we can become more sustainable and self sufficient.

The biggest change has been in the children. They are being cared for on a daily basis, they are being provided food and clothing, they are all attending school, they are being taught the Bible, they are shown how to live a Godly life for Christ, and they are raised in a Christian loving environment. For me, it's the smiles on their faces that tell the story. These children have hope, a family that cares, and spiritual guidance. So many over there are giving so much to care for and help these children.

Brother Laban and his wife, Sister Josephine labor helping the children in so many ways. They are there daily and oversee all care and duties. Their son, Emmanual works with the children daily as well as attending college. As I mentioned, many others are giving their time and effort to attend to the needs of the children. God Bless them all for their love and devotion for caring for these children.

I had asked Brother John Kombo (he is a member of the Orphanage Committee), Brother Laban, and Brother Emmanuel to write a report on the Matundu Orphanage. I am including their report. (printed last month)

As we enter 2025, we thank God for all he has done for all of us, here in the US, as well as in Kenya, and also Tanzania in providing a means to help the orphan children in these 2 countries. Lord willing, we hope to continue to complete projects at the orphanage this year. Our prayer is that more can be done in these 2 countries as well as the many other areas in the world that have great need.

I will try and follow-up next month with a report on the orphanage work in Tanzania.

Thank you for all the prayers and support for these children.

In Christian love,
Gerald Brockman

TANZANIA UPDATE

Brothers & Sisters,

We greet you in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. In this world there is no peace and rest; there is ups and down sometimes one can loose hope but one thing is constant, God promised to be with us till the end if we remain faithful to him.

We would like to inform you that two congregations have been started in Tabora the region we visited last month. Brother Joseph told us that those who were Pentecostals are now Christians. We praise God that he has changed their hearts to know the truth. We have been praying that those that we teach and preach to may know the truth and turn to Christ. Pray for them to grow in the Lord and do his will.

Evangelism, preaching and teaching went on this month. Visiting new places that had not been reached as we persuade people to come to Christ and the response was good. We know that our work is to plant the seed but God gives the increase. Brother Deusi got a motor-cycle accident last week, it happened that while they were going they reached at a sloping road and the brakes were not good thus he got bruises.

We expect baptisms in a couple of days at James' house. These are the people we had Bible class for two weeks and we see that they hearts are ready to be added in Christ. Again your support for this work is not in vain and we thank you all always because as you make it possible for us to go is when many people know about Christ.

Alex Sadat

Lastly, we ask you to pray for us, the Orphans and the work we do here in Tanzania. We have 22 vulnerable children that we care for and one of them (David) who is using his hands to move had fire accident. They house had been burned down and now I'm staying with him.

Your brother in Christ
Sadat

Studying Revelation

A look at Revelation 2:10

Bro. Paul Warford

Rev 2:10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer

One of the things that we want to remember here is that the seven churches in Asia represented the whole or complete church because that's what the number seven does. So not only is the promise of suffering given to the churches back then but it's also given to the churches of today. We should think it's no strange thing when we fall into different temptations.

But Christ also wanted us not to fear. Remember he is walking in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks which are the churches, so he walks amongst us today to give us strength and encouragement in all the trials and temptations that we face. He gives us the full armor of God so that we can protect ourselves from the wiles of the devil so there's absolutely no need to fear. In the parable of the talents the servant that received only one talent, his main fault was, "I was afraid and went and hid thy talent in the earth." Fear is what caused his failure.

1Jn 4:18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.

God does not want his people in torment, so instead of fear he gives them love.

behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried;

While it may be an actual man that puts the affliction and persecution upon you notice who the ringleader is, it's the old devil. We are not in any way to blame the actual man for the persecution that we go through. He is simply being used by Satan.

2Ti 2:24-26 And the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient,

2Ti 2:25 In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth;

2Ti 2:26 And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will.

That the devil takes and uses those that he would is abundantly clear in this passage.

Putting Christians into prison at this time was not an uncommon thing. The apostle Paul himself put many Christians in prison when he was yet Saul. John was most likely banished to the Isle of Patmos, where he wrote Revelation, for preaching the gospel of Christ. If we ever do have to go to prison for preaching the gospel of Christ, I pray that I have the strength to live up to the beautiful example given to us by Paul and Silas of singing while in prison. In fact I plan on rattling the bars if they ever put me in prison.

1Pe 1:7 That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

God has always tried the faithful, he wants to be assured of their love for him. Remember the story of Abraham and Isaac, how Abraham was offering his son, his only son, upon an alter because God asked him to.

and ye shall have tribulation ten days

Commentators either seem to ignore this passage or they show two different ideas about it. Either it's talking about a literal 10 days that means the persecution would be short, giving the church the encouragement that it won't last long or they use the year for day theory from the Old Testament and it means that it'll be 10 years long. B.W. Johnson says that the Diocletian persecution of the church lasted for 10 years and three months.

Wikipedia says this about the Diocletian persecution,

The Diocletian or Great Persecution was the last and most severe persecution of Christians in the Roman Empire.

I personally believe that it could be either one or possibly could mean both.

be thou faithful unto death

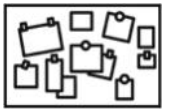

While I believe this statement could be used to indicate a full long life of servitude, I don't think that's what it really means. Considering the persecutions that the Lord knew the church would face, it is my sincere belief, that he is telling them to be faithful to him even if it causes their death.

and I will give thee a crown of life.

Tom Wacaster has this to say "The savior was speaking of something far greater and glorious than some earthly crown. Faithful Saints will enjoy the crown of life. Peter called it a crown of glory, Paul called it a crown of righteousness, and James called it a crown of life. It is also called an incorruptible crown. We should note here the certainty of it, for it is Christ who has promised it.

In Christian Love,
Bro. Paul Warford
